

An engraving of a monarch, likely a king, wearing a crown and holding a sword in his right hand and a scepter in his left. He is standing over a detailed cityscape with a church spire. At the top of the image, there is a Latin inscription: "Non est potestas Super Terram quae Comparetur ei Job p. 27." The main title of the workshop is overlaid on the image.

WORKSHOP DE POLÍTICAS PÚBLICAS

"When does clientelism payoff?"

Legislature size and welfare with evidence from Brazil."

Umberto Guarnier Mignozzetti

Doutor pela New York University (NYU), Estados Unidos

Professor da Fundação Getúlio Vargas (FGV), São Paulo

Data: Segunda-feira, 26/06/2017, 16h30-18h00

Local: A2-S104 SBC

A apresentação será em português.

Aberto ao público.